5. While conducting cadjre reviews, time bound promotions may be considered only in exceptional cases$_i$ where it is provided for in the Service Rules of respective categories/grade of concerned staff. The cadre review should be consistent with the needs and requirements of the organisations.

6. While conducting cadre review$_<$ the Administrative Ministry may consider rationalisation of categories/grades through merger, as over the passage of time, there might have been proliferation of categories^ levels and grades in each Service. A multidisciplinary approach may be (considered rather than having strict jacket or water tight compartmentalisation.

7 In isolated categories where promotion to next grade is not possible, efforts m'ay 'b$_e$ made t^ identify posts after taking into account the qualifications and experience, duties and responsibilities attached to these posts, for merging them with the existing cadres. In case it is not possible to merge ttiem in an existing or proposed hierarchical structure, these posts should not be filled by direct recruitment but by transfer on deputation so that the incumbents of such posts Jo not stagnate.

Periodicity

The Cadre review exercise may be conducted after every five years.

Statement

Independent Studies carried out in C.G.H.S.

Several bodies and agencies have looked into the working of the C. G. H. S. from time to time with a view to optimise the delivery of services under the scheme.

1. Estimates Committee (1958-59) of the Second Lok Sabha was the first body to suggest a review and evaluation of the scheme. This led ^{to} the appointment of an Assessment Committee of Parliament in 1961. Thi$_s$ Committee, which was also known as the Radha Raman Committee, .noted that 'be scheme had proved useful to the beneficiaries and suggested that the scheme should no$_t$ only be strengthened and augmented, hut also extended
